The Rules of the House of Representatives provide for election by the House, at the commencement of each Congress, of 19 named standing committees, one of which is the Committee on Government Reform.¹ Pursuant to House Resolutions 6, 7, and 8 (adopted January 7, 2003), membership of the Committee on Government Reform was set at 44 including one independent.

II. HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

The Committee on Government Reform serves as the House's chief investigative and oversight body, reviewing allegations of waste, fraud and abuse across the Federal government. The Committee's unique oversight jurisdiction makes it one of the most influential committees in the House of Representatives.

Congressman Dan Burton (R-IN) currently serves as the Chairman of the Committee. The Ranking Minority Member is Congressman Henry Waxman (D-CA).

The Committee on Government Reform first appeared in 1927 as the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments. It was created by consolidating the 11 Committees on Expenditures previously responsible for overseeing how taxpayer monies were spent at each executive branch department.

Under the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946, the Committee was renamed the Committee on Government Operations. The name change was intended to communicate the primary function of the committee -- to study "the operations of Government activities at all levels with a view to determining their economy and efficiency." The Government Operations Committee's oversight jurisdiction over all Federal agencies and departments was unprecedented in the legislative branch.

On January 4, 1995, Republicans assumed control of the House of Representatives for the first time in forty years. Republicans immediately implemented several internal reforms, including an initiative to reduce the number of standing committees in the House and cut committee staff by one-third. The Committee on Government Reform exemplified the changes that took place in the House. Both the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service and the Committee on the District of Columbia were consolidated into the newly named Government Reform and Oversight Committee. The name change highlighted the Republican view that the federal government needed reform to ensure accountability. This consolidation of three committees into one resulted in millions of dollars in savings and a nearly 50% reduction in staff.

During the 104th Congress, under leadership of Chairman Bill Clinger (R-PA), the Committee produced three major pieces of the 'Contract With America' that became law: 1) legislation to stop Congress from imposing mandates on state and local governments without funding; 2) line-item veto legislation granting the President authority to strike individual items from tax and spending bills; and 3) an act to reduce the paperwork burden the federal government imposes on state and local governments, individuals, and private businesses. The Committee also won passage of legislation to create a financial control board to help bring the District of Columbia out of its financial crisis.

In addition to his legislative accomplishments, Chairman Clinger led the Committee's investigation of the improper firings of White House Travel Office workers and the White House's controversial handling of FBI files.

In 1997, following Chairman Clinger's retirement, Congressman Burton assumed the Chairmanship. He became the first Republican member from the the Hoosier State to chair a full committee of the House since 1931. Previously, Congressman Burton had been a senior member of the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service.

At the onset of the 105th Congress, Chairman Burton guided a Committee investigation into illegal foreign contributions that flowed into presidential campaigns, the Justice Department's flawed handling of these allegations, and a series of controversial Presidential pardons.

Under Chairman Burton's leadership, the Committee has also enacted a number of important pieces of legislation governing such diverse areas as Federal employee benefits, the District of Columbia and Federal financial management. Prominent examples include: 1.) The Erroneous Payments Recovery Act, which requires federal agencies to use advanced private-sector auditing procedures to detect and recover mistaken payments; 2.) the District of Columbia Family Court Act, creating a new Family Court in the wake of shocking revelations about the handling of foster care cases in the District of Columbia; and 3.) the Long-Term Care Security Act, establishing an insurance program for Federal employees covering long-term care needs.

The Committee currently has forty-three members; twenty-three Republicans, nineteen Democrats and one Independent. It has seven subcommittees.

Congressman Tom Davis (R-VA) served as chairman of the committee in the 108th Congress. The ranking minority member was Congressman Henry Waxman (D-CA). In the 108th Congress, 44 members served on the committee, including 24 Republicans, 19 Democrats and 1 Independent. The committee has seven subcommittees. The jurisdiction of the subcommittees was established by a committee resolution on February 13, 2003 along with the rules of the committee.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF COMMITTEES

* * * * *

34. The examination of the accounts and expenditures of the several departments, independent establishments, and commissions of the Government, and the manner of keeping the same; the economy, justness, and correctness of such expenditures; their conformity with appropriation laws; the proper application of public moneys; the security of the Government against unjust and extravagant demands; retrenchment; the enforcement of the payment of moneys due the United States; the economy and accountability of public officers; the abolishment of useless offices, shall all be subjects within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments.

The Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946, section 121(b), as adopted in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of Rule XI, 8, of later Rules of the House (XI, 9 in the 93d Congress), provided:

COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

- (a) Budget and accounting measures, other than appropriations.
- (b) Reorganizations in the executive branch of the Government.
- (c) Such committee shall have the duty of—
 - (1) receiving and examining reports of the Comptroller General of the United States and of submitting such recommendations to the House as it deems necessary or desirable in connection with the subject matter of such reports;
 - (2) studying the operation of Government activities at all levels with a view to determining its economy and efficiency;
 - (3) evaluating the effects of laws enacted to reorganize the legislative and executive branches of the Government;
- and
- (4) studying intergovernmental relationships between the United States and the States and municipalities, and between the United States and international organizations of which the United States is a member.

(d) For the purpose of performing such duties the committee, or any subcommittee thereof when authorized by the committee, is authorized to sit, hold hearings, and act at such times and places within the United States, whether or not the House is in session, is in recess, or has adjourned, to require by subpoena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such papers, documents, and books, and to take such testimony as it deems necessary. Subpoenas may be issued under the signature of the chairman of the committee of any subcommittee, or by any member designated by any such chairman, and may be served by any person designated by any such chairman or member.²

Rule X, 1(h), of later Rules of the House, effective January 3, 1975 (H. Res. 988, 93d Congress), added the additional jurisdiction of general revenue sharing (formerly within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Ways and Means), and the National Archives (formerly within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service).

Rule X, 1(j)(6), of later Rules of the House listed the additional jurisdiction of measures providing for off-budget treatment of Federal agencies or programs, which was added by sec. 225 of Public Law 99-177, the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (December 12, 1985).

The 1946 Act contained the following provision:

Provided, That unless otherwise provided herein, any matter within the jurisdiction of a standing committee prior to January 2, 1947, shall remain subject to the jurisdiction of that committee or of the consolidated committee succeeding generally to the jurisdiction of that committee.

This proviso was omitted from the Rules of the House adopted January 3, 1954.³

Under the Constitution (Art. I, sec. 5, cl. 2), "Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings." Omission of the proviso made no substantive change, since the scope of the committee's jurisdiction prior to January 2, 1947, was embraced within the committee's jurisdiction as stated in existing rules and precedents.

The committee's membership, which was fixed at 21 when it was consolidated on December 5, 1927, was increased to 25 when the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946 became effective on January 2, 1947. In 1951, the committee's membership was increased to 27.⁴ From 1953 until January 1963, the committee's membership remained at 30.⁵ Pursuant to H.Res. 108, 88th Congress, adopted January 17, 1963, the committee was enlarged to 31 members. In the 89th Congress the membership of the committee was increased to 34 through passage of H.Res. 114, January 14, 1965. The committee membership in the 90th and 91st Congresses of 35 was first established by H.Res. 128, 90th Congress approved January 16, 1967. The committee membership in the 92d Congress of 39 was established by H.Res. 192, approved February 4, 1971. It was raised to 41 by H.Res. 158, adopted January 24, 1973. (Note.—It dropped to 42 due to death of Hon. Torbert H. Macdonald.) Membership was maintained at 43 in the 95th Congress by H.Res. 117 and 118, adopted January 19, 1977. The committee membership was set at 39 in the 96th Congress by H.Res. 62 and 63, adopted January 24, 1979. Representative Scott Klug was elected to the committee on July 22, 1996 (H.Res. 485), bringing the membership of the committee to 52.

Beginning September 28, 1949, the moneys appropriated to the committee were, by House resolution in each session of Congress, available for expenses incurred in conducting studies and investigations authorized under Rule XI, whether made within or without the United States.⁶ In the 103rd Congress, these matters are covered in paragraph (b) of clause 1 of Rule XI, as set forth above, and by clause 5 of Rule XI. The funds for the committee's studies and oversight function during the first session of the 103rd Congress were provided by H.Res. 107, adopted March 30, 1993 (H.Rept. 103-38), and by H.Res. 369, adopted March 22, 1994 (H.Rept. 103-433), for the second session.

The committee's name was changed to "Committee on Government Operations" by House resolution adopted July 3, 1952.⁷ The Congressional Record indicates the reasons underlying that change in name were, in part, as follows:⁸

This committee is proposing the indicated change in the present title, in view of the fact that it is misleading and the committee's functions and duties are generally misunderstood by the public.

* * * * *

⁶ See items under (1) in footnote 3, of the final calendar of the committee for the 93d Congress (December 31, 1974).

⁷ H.Res. 647, 82d Cong. (98 Cong. Rec. 9217). The Senate had made a similar change of name on March 3, 1952, after conferences between the chairmen of the House and Senate Committees on Expenditures in the Executive Departments to insure that both Houses would adopt the change in name. S. Res. 280, 82d Cong. (98 Cong. Rec. 1701-1702). See also S. Rept. No. 1231, 80th Cong., 2d sess., p. 3 (May 3, 1948).

⁸ Letter of February 19, 1952, from the chairman, Senate Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments, Senator McClellan to Senator Hayden (98 Cong. Rec. 1702).

In suggesting the proposed change the committee based its decision on what it considers to be the major or primary function of the committee under the prescribed duties assigned to it to study "the operations of Government activities at all levels with a view to determining its economy and efficiency." It was the unanimous view of the members of the committee that the proposed new title would be more accurate in defining the purposes for which the committee was created and in clearly establishing the major purpose it serves.

On January 4, 1995, the 104th Congress opened with a Republican majority for the first time in forty years. The shift in power from Democrats to Republicans has resulted in a realignment of the legislative priorities and committee structure of the House of Representatives. Perhaps more than any other committee, the Government Reform and Oversight Committee embodies the changes taking place in the House of Representatives. The Committee itself was created by consolidating three committees into one, resulting in budget and staff cuts of nearly 50%. The committees that were merged include the Committee on Government Operations, the Committee on the Post Office and Civil Service, and the Committee on the District of Columbia.

In order to fulfill the Republican Contract with America, the committee held a record number of hearings and mark-ups, and members cast more votes during this 100 day period than in any of the previous Committee's histories. Over the course of the first session, 295 bills and resolutions were referred to the committee and its subcommittees, and 180 hearings and mark-ups were held. Five of these measures have been signed into law.

In addition to its greatly expanded legislative jurisdiction, the Government Reform and Oversight Committee serves as the chief investigative committee of the House, with the authority to conduct government-wide oversight. Because the committee only authorizes money for a small number of federal agencies and programs, it is able to review government activities with an unbiased eye.

The 105th Congress and the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight under the leadership of Chairman Dan Burton (R-IN) enjoyed a productive year as Congress continued to move closer to its goals established with the Contract with America, to seek to achieve a smaller, smarter, and more efficient common sense government.

In addition to the committee's oversight responsibilities, the Government Reform and Oversight Committee has pursued an active, ambitious agenda throughout the 105th Congress with its ongoing investigation of suspected illegal activities during the 1996 elections. The committee and its eight subcommittees conducted 252 hearings during the 105th Congress. Hearings covered the following diverse range of subjects: the year 2000 computer crisis; the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program; the Persian Gulf war veterans illnesses; oversight and implementation of the Results Act; the investigation of political fundraising improprieties; and the review of the Food and Drug Administration and its regulations respecting terminally ill patients and their ability to access desired treatments. The committee staff developed a web site (www.house.gov/reform) to post up-to-minute witness testimonies and reports for quick availability.

The committee continued its oversight responsibilities during the 106th Congress. The committee continued with its investigation of suspected illegal fundraising during the 1996 elections. Hearings also covered a wide range of subjects including the year 2000 computer crisis, the President's decision to grant clemency to members of the FALN, oversight of Plan Columbia, an aid package to Columbia to fight the drug war, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program, and oversight of the FDA. The committee also passed legislation to recover millions of dollars from government contractors through auditing. The committee also maintained a website (www.house.gov/reform) to post not only witness testimonies but live coverage of committee hearings.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT REFORM

ONE HUNDRED EIGHTH CONGRESS

(As Adopted February 2003)

Rule XI, 1(a)(1)(A) of the House of Representatives provides:

Except as provided in subdivision (B), the Rules of the House are the rules of its committees and subcommittees so far as applicable.

(B) A motion to recess from day to day, and a motion to dispense with the first reading (in full) of a bill or resolution, if printed copies are available, each shall be privileged in committees and subcommittees and shall be decided without debate.

Rule XI, 2(a)(1) of the House of Representatives provides, in part:

Each standing committee of the House shall adopt written rules governing its procedures. * * *
In accordance with this, the Committee on Government Reform, on February 13, 2003, adopted the rules of the committee:

RULE 1—APPLICATION OF RULES

Except where the terms "full committee" and "subcommittee" are specifically referred to, the following rules shall apply to the Committee on Government Reform and its subcommittees as well as to the respective chairmen.

(See House Rule XI, 1.)

RULE 2—MEETINGS

The regular meetings of the full Committee shall be held on the second Tuesday of each month at 10:00 a.m., when the House is in session. The chairman is authorized to dispense with a regular meeting or to change the date thereof, and to call and convene additional meetings, when circumstances warrant. A special meeting of the committee may be requested by members of the committee following the provisions of House Rule XI, clause 2(c)2. Subcommittees shall meet at the call of the subcommittee chairmen. Every member of the committee or the appropriate subcommittee, unless prevented by unusual circumstances, shall be provided with a memorandum at least three calendar days before each meeting or hearing explaining (1) the purpose of the meeting or hearing; and (2) the names, titles, background and reasons for appearance of any witnesses. The ranking minority member shall be responsible for providing the same information on witnesses whom the minority may request.

(See House Rule XI, 2(b).)

RULE 3—QUORUMS

A majority of the members of the committee shall form a quorum, except that two members shall constitute a quorum for taking testimony and receiving evidence, and one-third of the members shall form a quorum for taking any action other than the reporting of a measure or recommendation. If the chairman is not present at any meeting of the committee or subcommittee, the ranking member of the majority party on the committee or subcommittee who is present shall preside at that meeting.

(See House Rule XI, 2(h).)

RULE 4—COMMITTEE REPORTS

Bills and resolutions approved by the committee shall be reported by the chairman following House Rule XII, clauses 2-4. A proposed report shall not be considered in subcommittee of full committee unless the proposed report has been available to the members of such committee of full committee for at least three calendar days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, unless the House is in session on such days) before consideration of such proposed report in subcommittee of full committee. Any report will be considered as read if available to the members at least 24 hours before consideration, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays unless the House is in session on such days. If hearings have been held on the matter reported upon, every reasonable effort shall be made to have such hearings available to the members of the subcommittee or full committee before the consideration of the proposed report in such subcommittee of full committee. Every investigative report shall be approved by a majority vote of the committee at as meeting at which a quorum is present. Supplemental, minority, or additional views may be filed following House Rule XI, clause 2(l) and Rule XII, clause 3(a)(1). The time allowed for filing such views shall be three calendar days, beginning on the day of the notice, but excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays (unless the House is in session on such a day), unless the committee agrees to a different time, but agreement on a shorter time shall require the concurrence of each member seeking to file such views. An investigative or oversight report may be filed after sine die adjournment of the last regular session of Congress, provided that if a member gives timely notice of intention to file supplemental minority or additional views, that member shall be entitled to not less than seven calendar days in which to submit such views for inclusion with the report. Only those reports approved by a majority vote of the committee may be ordered printed, unless otherwise required by the Rules of the House of Representatives.

RULE 5--PROXY VOTES

In accordance with the Rules of the House of Representatives, members may not vote by proxy on any measure or matter before the committee or any subcommittee.
(See House Rule XI, 2(f).)

RULE 6--RECORD VOTES

A record vote of the members may be had upon the request of any member upon approval of a one-fifth vote.
(See House Rule XI, 2(e).)

RULE 7--RECORD OF COMMITTEE ACTIONS

The original records, or true copies thereof, as appropriate, shall be available for public inspection whenever the committee offices are open for public business. The staff shall assure that such original records are preserved with no unauthorized alteration, additions, or defacement.
(See House Rule XI, 2(e).)

RULE 8--SUBCOMMITTEES; REFERRALS

There shall be eight subcommittees with appropriate party ratios that shall have fixed jurisdictions. Bills, resolutions, and other matters shall be referred by the chairman to subcommittees within two weeks for consideration or investigation in accordance with their fixed jurisdictions. Where the subject matter of the referral involves the jurisdiction of more than one subcommittee or does not fall within any previously assigned jurisdiction, the chairman shall refer the matter as he may deem advisable. Bills, resolutions, and other matters referred to subcommittees may be reassigned by the chairman when, in his judgment, the subcommittee is not able to complete its work or cannot reach agreement therein. In a subcommittee having an even number of members, if there is a tie vote with all members voting on any measure, the measure shall be placed on the agenda for full committee consideration as if it had been ordered reported by the subcommittee without recommendation. This provision shall not preclude further action on the measure by the subcommittee.
(See House Rule XI, 1(a)(2).)

RULE 9--EX OFFICIO MEMBERS

The chairman and the ranking minority member of the committee shall be ex officio members of all subcommittees. They are authorized to vote on subcommittee matters; but, unless they are regular members of the subcommittee, they shall not be counted in determining a subcommittee quorum other than a quorum for taking testimony.

RULE 12—HEARING DATES AND WITNESSES

The chairman of the full committee will announce the date, place, and subject matter of all hearings at least one week before the commencement of any hearings, unless he determines, with the concurrence of the ranking minority member, or the committee determines by a vote, that there is good cause to begin such hearings sooner. So that the chairman of the full committee may coordinate the committee facilities and hearings plans, each subcommittee chairman shall notify him of any hearing plans at least two weeks before the date of commencement of hearings, including the date, place, subject matter, and the names of witnesses, willing and unwilling, who would be called to testify, including, to the extent he is advised thereof, witnesses whom the minority members may request. The minority members shall supply the names of witnesses they intend to call to the chairman of the full committee or subcommittee at the earliest possible date. Witnesses appearing before the committee shall so far as practicable, submit written statements at least 24 hours before their appearance and, when appearing in a non-governmental capacity, provide a curriculum vitae and a listing of any Federal Government grants and contracts received in the previous fiscal year.

RULE 13—OPEN MEETINGS

(See House Rules XI, 2(g) and (k).)

RULE 14—FIVE-MINUTE RULE

(1) A committee member may question a witness only when recognized by the chairman for that purpose. In accordance with House Rule XI, 2(j)(2), each committee member may request up to five minutes to question a witness until each member who so desires has had such opportunity. After that, additional time may be extended at the direction of the chairman. (4) Nothing in paragraph (2) or (3) affects the rights of a Member (other than a Member designated under paragraph (2)) to question a witness for 5 minutes in accordance with paragraph (1) after the questioning permitted under paragraph (2) or (3). In any extended questioning permitted under paragraph (2) or (3), the chairman shall determine how to allocate the time permitted for extended questioning by majority members or majority committee staff and the ranking minority member shall determine how to allocate the time permitted for extended questioning by minority members or minority committee staff. The Chairman or the ranking minority member, as applicable, may allocate the time for any extended questioning permitted to staff under paragraph (3) to members.

RULE 15—INVESTIGATIVE HEARINGS; PROCEDURE

Investigative hearings shall be conducted according to the procedures in House Rule XI, clause 2(k). (3) Personnel providing coverage of an open meeting or hearing of the committee or a subcommittee by Internet broadcast,
